

National Republican.

W. J. MURTAGH, .... Editor and Proprietor.

Largest Circulation of Any Morning Paper in the District of Columbia.PUBLISHED EVERY MORNING (no Sunday excepted)

D. W. J. MURTAGH

National owner of Tents and Drapery, (Contractors for the U.S. Cavalry,) and is furnished to estimate our various advantages per month.

BATES OF ADVERTISING.
Twenty-five cents per line. Advertising under the head of "Advertiser's Name," "Wanted," "Lost and Found," and "Ourselves" cost one cent per line.THE WEEKLY RECOMMENDATION. published every Sunday at 10 a.m. for one year, $2; three copies one year, $5; one copy one year, $1; single copies, in wrappers,$100 all communications, whether on business or publication, should be addressed to W. J. MUR-

TAGH, Printer to NATIONAL REPUBLICAN, Washington, D. C.

Business Hours of the Executive Mansion.
Until the 4th of March the President will designate his office for the reception of visitors in the afternoon, from 12 to 4, will be discontinued, and only those who have important business will be allowed interviews.The Press upon the Congressional Globe.In another column this morning we print some comments from several of the leading papers of the country upon the debates in Congress. The Cincinnati Commercial, it will be seen, has no reverence whatever for the expensive institution, and, if it must be printed, believes it should go to the lowest depth. The Tribune is at a loss to see how the Democrats in the House, who make it a party question, can reconcile their economic professions with their record in this matter, while the Richmond Dispatch, a true blue party organ, believes it is getting "better and better." Of course it does. It has vivid recollections of Father Ritchie and other old party editors, who managed to make a good thing out of the Government printing—who obtained it as the party of service and ability. It is amazed at the amount of matter printed in the Globe every month, but it looks with the most serene tranquility upon the enormous bills paid out for it annually.The Extra Session of the Senate.The session of the President convening the Senate of the Party-third Congress in extra session on the 4th of March will be opened Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.Mr. Wilson's Credit Mobilier Bill.Mr. Wilson, of Indiana, chairman of credit mobilier No. 2, gave notice Saturday, in the House, that he would bring up his bill on the 4th of March, and, put it reported by him from committee on its passage.

If such a motion should be made, and supposed, it would be the most remarkable instance of hasty legislation that ever occurred in the history of both Houses.

The Indiana delegation, as far as I am aware, is of the opinion that it is competent for a similar motion to be made.

Squats to dispose of without concurrence of the House, will therefore be postponed for the present, and be acted upon during the extra session, which will probably last four weeks, if not longer.What Shall Be Done with the Poland Report?The report of the Poland investigating committee, as it is called, will be considered in the House tomorrow. Although the press and people and members of Congress have given the subject the greatest consideration during the last five or six days, although the testimony, as taken from day to day duringthe last eight or ten weeks, has been read and discussed by all, it is still a question, it would be impossible for any one to answer with certainty the question we have put to Squats to dispose of without concur-

rence of the House, will therefore be postponed for the present, and be acted upon

during the extra session, which will probably last four weeks, if not longer.Mr. Wilson's Bill.

The report of the Poland investigating committee, as it is called, will be considered

in the House tomorrow. Although the press
and people and members of Congress have
given the subject the greatest consideration
during the last five or six days, although the
testimony, as taken from day to day duringthe last eight or ten weeks, has been read and
discussed by all, it is still a question, it would be impossible for any one to answer with certainty the question we have put to Squats to dispose of without concur-

rence of the House, will therefore be postponed for the present, and be acted upon

during the extra session, which will probably last four weeks, if not longer.New Mexico.

We have received from the Acting Governor of New Mexico, W. F. West, a pamphlet containing some interesting and valuable information concerning the physical, geological, and mineral wealth of that territory.

The pamphlet is a careful review of the advantages possessed by the Territory, and its remarks are based upon the best information attainable from the most accurate sources. It critically discusses the evils by which the development of the resources of that section have been retarded. Congressional encouragement and aid in the construction of irrigation works to facilitate agriculture is urged, and the importance of immigration is emphasized.

Two or three questions

and discussions enter into this portion of the case to which we desire to call first.

First, there is the question of private and personal feeling of friendliness or unfriendliness to the gentlemen concerned; second, the portion absolutely requiring Mr. Blaine of all connection with the credit mobilier, upon which we apprehend there will be no difference of opinion; second, the portion in regard to Messrs. Davis, Kelley, Garfield, &amp;c., and third, the resolutions recommending the expulsion of Mr. Ames and Brooks.

The first branch may be entirely eliminated from consideration, as it is the opinion of the two that the former and the latter are in

entire agreement.

Two or three questions

and discussions enter into this portion of the

case to which we desire to call first.

Second, there is the question of private and personal

feeling of friendliness or unfriendliness to

the gentlemen concerned; second, the portion absolutely requiring Mr. Blaine of all connection with the credit mobilier, upon which we apprehend there will be no difference of opinion; second, the portion in regard to Messrs. Davis, Kelley, Garfield, &amp;c., and third, the resolutions recommending the expulsion of Mr. Ames and Brooks.

The first branch may be entirely eliminated

from consideration, as it is the opinion of the

two that the former and the latter are in

entire agreement.

Two or three questions

and discussions enter into this portion of the

case to which we desire to call first.

Second, there is the question of private and personal

feeling of friendliness or unfriendliness to

the gentlemen concerned; second, the portion absolutely requiring Mr. Blaine of all connection with the credit mobilier, upon which we apprehend there will be no difference of opinion; second, the portion in regard to Messrs. Davis, Kelley, Garfield, &amp;c., and third, the resolutions recommending the expulsion of Mr. Ames and Brooks.

The first branch may be entirely eliminated

from consideration, as it is the opinion of the

two that the former and the latter are in

entire agreement.

Two or three questions

and discussions enter into this portion of the

case to which we desire to call first.

Second, there is the question of private and personal

feeling of friendliness or unfriendliness to

the gentlemen concerned; second, the portion absolutely requiring Mr. Blaine of all connection with the credit mobilier, upon which we apprehend there will be no difference of opinion; second, the portion in regard to Messrs. Davis, Kelley, Garfield, &amp;c., and third, the resolutions recommending the expulsion of Mr. Ames and Brooks.

The first branch may be entirely eliminated

from consideration, as it is the opinion of the

two that the former and the latter are in

entire agreement.

Two or three questions

and discussions enter into this portion of the

case to which we desire to call first.

Second, there is the question of private and personal

feeling of friendliness or unfriendliness to

the gentlemen concerned; second, the portion absolutely requiring Mr. Blaine of all connection with the credit mobilier, upon which we apprehend there will be no difference of opinion; second, the portion in regard to Messrs. Davis, Kelley, Garfield, &amp;c., and third, the resolutions recommending the expulsion of Mr. Ames and Brooks.

The first branch may be entirely eliminated

from consideration, as it is the opinion of the

two that the former and the latter are in

entire agreement.

Two or three questions

and discussions enter into this portion of the

case to which we desire to call first.

Second, there is the question of private and personal

feeling of friendliness or unfriendliness to

the gentlemen concerned; second, the portion absolutely requiring Mr. Blaine of all connection with the credit mobilier, upon which we apprehend there will be no difference of opinion; second, the portion in regard to Messrs. Davis, Kelley, Garfield, &amp;c., and third, the resolutions recommending the expulsion of Mr. Ames and Brooks.

The first branch may be entirely eliminated

from consideration, as it is the opinion of the

two that the former and the latter are in

entire agreement.

Two or three questions

and discussions enter into this portion of the

case to which we desire to call first.

Second, there is the question of private and personal

feeling of friendliness or unfriendliness to

the gentlemen concerned; second, the portion absolutely requiring Mr. Blaine of all connection with the credit mobilier, upon which we apprehend there will be no difference of opinion; second, the portion in regard to Messrs. Davis, Kelley, Garfield, &amp;c., and third, the resolutions recommending the expulsion of Mr. Ames and Brooks.

The first branch may be entirely eliminated

from consideration, as it is the opinion of the

two that the former and the latter are in

entire agreement.

Two or three questions

and discussions enter into this portion of the

case to which we desire to call first.

Second, there is the question of private and personal

feeling of friendliness or unfriendliness to

the gentlemen concerned; second, the portion absolutely requiring Mr. Blaine of all connection with the credit mobilier, upon which we apprehend there will be no difference of opinion; second, the portion in regard to Messrs. Davis, Kelley, Garfield, &amp;c., and third, the resolutions recommending the expulsion of Mr. Ames and Brooks.

The first branch may be entirely eliminated

from consideration, as it is the opinion of the

two that the former and the latter are in

entire agreement.

Two or three questions

and discussions enter into this portion of the

case to which we desire to call first.

Second, there is the question of private and personal

feeling of friendliness or unfriendliness to

the gentlemen concerned; second, the portion absolutely requiring Mr. Blaine of all connection with the credit mobilier, upon which we apprehend there will be no difference of opinion; second, the portion in regard to Messrs. Davis, Kelley, Garfield, &amp;c., and third, the resolutions recommending the expulsion of Mr. Ames and Brooks.

The first branch may be entirely eliminated

from consideration, as it is the opinion of the

two that the former and the latter are in

entire agreement.

Two or three questions

and discussions enter into this portion of the

case to which we desire to call first.

Second, there is the question of private and personal

feeling of friendliness or unfriendliness to

the gentlemen concerned; second, the portion absolutely requiring Mr. Blaine of all connection with the credit mobilier, upon which we apprehend there will be no difference of opinion; second, the portion in regard to Messrs. Davis, Kelley, Garfield, &amp;c., and third, the resolutions recommending the expulsion of Mr. Ames and Brooks.

The first branch may be entirely eliminated

from consideration, as it is the opinion of the

two that the former and the latter are in

entire agreement.

Two or three questions

and discussions enter into this portion of the

case to which we desire to call first.

Second, there is the question of private and personal

feeling of friendliness or unfriendliness to

the gentlemen concerned; second, the portion absolutely requiring Mr. Blaine of all connection with the credit mobilier, upon which we apprehend there will be no difference of opinion; second, the portion in regard to Messrs. Davis, Kelley, Garfield, &amp;c., and third, the resolutions recommending the expulsion of Mr. Ames and Brooks.

The first branch may be entirely eliminated

from consideration, as it is the opinion of the

two that the former and the latter are in

entire agreement.

Two or three questions

and discussions enter into this portion of the case to which we